Chattanooga Area IIA presents:
Linguistic: Lie Detection Seminar
January 8, 2012
DoubleTree Hotel Chattanooga, TN

Back by popular demand!

NEJOLLA KORRIS

Ms. Korris presents an overview of how linguistic lie detection is used in business and investigative areas. Learn the basics of information gathering and how to interpret the information you receive. In an interactive setting, you will also be able to apply Linguistic Lie Detection basics to a variety of high profile media cases and see what the subject really meant.

Nejolla Korris is CEO of InterVeritas Intl. and an international expert in the field of Linguistic Lie Detection. She is skilled in Scientific Content Analysis (SCAN), a technique that can determine whether a subject is truthful or deceptive. Korris has analyzed documents for fraud, international security, arson, sexual assault, homicide and missing persons' cases, causing some of her clients to dub her the "Human Lie Detector."

Korris has taught this methodology throughout North America, Europe, the Middle East, Brazil and South Africa. Her clients include corporations, government agencies, law enforcement and the military.

Ms. Korris is a popular speaker on Lie Detection, Fraud Prevention & Investigation, Workplace Fraud and Organizational Justice. Ms. Korris recently launched a new speaker's series on the differing communication styles between men and women. She is a frequent presenter for The Institute of Internal Auditors, ISACA, the American Society for Industrial Security, the American National Safety Council, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners and for ASIS Middle East in Bahrain. Nejolla's sessions on lie detection have ranked either #1 or #2 at the Institute of Internal Auditors International conferences consecutively since 2007.

Nejolla has a BA in Law from Carleton University and also serves as the Honorary Consul of Lithuania to Alberta.

InterVeritas International provides anti-corruption consulting, interviewing and interrogation training, investigative services, intelligence gathering, litigation support, linguistic statement analysis, employee audits and reference checks to corporations.
