Membership means more.

The Institute of Internal Auditors
WHO WE ARE

More than seventy years ago, a dedicated group of internal auditors recognized a need for an organization that would represent, serve, and advocate their profession.

Today, The IIA is the internal audit profession’s global voice, recognized authority, acknowledged leader, chief advocate, and principle educator.

With over 170,000 members in more than 164 countries, The IIA continually rises to the challenges faced by internal auditors around the world through education, standards and guidance, certification, research, advocacy, and networking opportunities for growth.

At The IIA, Membership Means More.
The mission of The IIA is to provide dynamic leadership for the global profession of internal auditing. As an internal auditor and an IIA member that means:

- You can take advantage of a wealth of professional growth opportunities. The IIA’s Code of Ethics, International Standards for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing, position papers, practice advisories, and practice guides for consistent, high-quality internal audit practices to follow and certification programs that allow you to earn recognition for your professional competency and career growth.

- You have access to the most recent research studies in regard to internal auditing and its appropriate role in control, risk management, and governance.

- You have a committed advocate actively promoting the value you add to your organization.

- You have a global community of professionals to which you can turn to share knowledge and experiences.

The Benefits of Membership

For internal audit practitioners and those impacted by the profession, membership in The IIA is a critical component of your overall strategy for career success. As an IIA member, you are better positioned to add value to your organization through the host of benefits that come with belonging. Your membership gives you access to hundreds of valuable products and services, many of which are offered free or at exclusive members-only pricing:

- Members-only Webinars every month – these 60 minute sessions cover a variety of topics that impact internal auditors at no additional charge. You’ll earn 1 CPE credit per session – that’s 12 in a year without leaving your office!

- A subscription to Internal Auditor magazine – the world’s leading publication covering the profession in print with online-exclusive content at InternalAuditorOnline.org. Now accessible with the Ia mobile app – compatible for use on most smartphones and tablets.

- The members-only newsletter, IIA Today, which is available in print bi-monthly, and the bi-weekly e-newsletter IIA Connection.

- IIA Research Foundation Bookstore Discounts including 30%-55% off select items and quarterly members-only bookstore sales (up to 85% off select items).

- Member exclusive pricing on CIA, CGAP, CCSA, CFSA, and the new CRMA certifications.

- Reduced fees on IIA conferences (up to US $500), and the opportunity to earn up to 18 CPE credits per event.

- Access to The IIA’s Global Technology Audit Guide (GTAG) Series.

- Access to the newly revamped Audit Career Center with more than 10,000 unique visitors monthly.

- Networking opportunities with over 170,000 of your colleagues from around the world.

- Access to local benefits through IIA chapter involvement.
EXPAND YOUR KNOWLEDGE
INCREASE CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

READ ALL ABOUT IT: IIA PUBLICATIONS
Included in your membership is Internal Auditor magazine and its online component InternalAuditorOnline.org, the official magazine of the internal audit profession. You will also receive IIA Today, the exclusive members-only newsletter that will keep you informed about internal audit news and what’s happening at The IIA in guidance, research, and professional development. Visit www.theiia.org/periodicals for details.

CONNECT WITH YOUR PEERS: SOCIAL NETWORKING

PROFESSIONAL GUIDANCE, INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS, AND ADVOCACY

The IIA is the standard- and guidance-setting body for the internal audit profession globally. The IIA’s Code of Ethics, International Standards for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing, position papers, practice advisories, and practice guides, all of which are free for IIA members. They provide a guidance framework aimed at supporting consistent, high-quality internal audit practices, which strengthen the standing of the internal audit profession, and enhances the economic value of internal auditing. The IIA works tirelessly on advocacy efforts to build relationships with organizations and stakeholders who can impact, elevate, and advance the profession globally. Visit www.theiia.org/guidance for details.

SHARE INFORMATION AND BEST PRACTICES

The Global Audit Information Network (GAIN) is The IIA’s premier benchmarking program. GAIN is a knowledge exchange program forum that enables internal auditors to learn from your peers and obtain a resource for leading practices to enhance your operational effectiveness and efficiency. Visit www.theiia.org/GAIN for details.

ACADEMIC RELATIONS

Internal auditing is fundamental to the governance process of any well-run organization, so internal audit education should be part of every business and public administration curriculum. Education is the foundation of any profession, and The IIA is committed to increasing and enhancing internal audit education in colleges and universities worldwide. Among the many ways The IIA can support internal audit education, is the development of a robust academic program called the Internal Auditing Education Partnership (IAEP) program. Visit www.theiia.org/academic to find out more about academic relations efforts and the IAEP program and other programs currently under development.
DISCOVER THE REWARDS OF GETTING INVOLVED

As an IIA member, you can benefit greatly from activities, programs, and networking opportunities through local IIA chapters and institutes worldwide. Attend local meetings and training programs, network with peers, develop professional contacts, and stay current on internal audit issues and best practices. Visit www.theiia.org/chapters-institutes to find the chapter or institute nearest to you.

AUDIT EXECUTIVE CENTER

The IIA launched the Audit Executive Center in late 2010, an exclusive resource dedicated to the unique needs and professional challenges facing chief audit executives (CAEs). The Center is a comprehensive program for all CAEs providing access to your peers within the profession and allowing The IIA to better serve you as an experienced audit leader. With a vast array of services to help stay empowered, connected, and relevant, you and your audit staff can access benchmarking studies, thought leadership, peer-to-peer knowledge sharing, online discussion forums, exclusive networking events, and news publications.

Through direct access to the Center, CAEs are better positioned to respond to the challenges, emerging risks, opportunities, and demands they face every day. To learn more and join, visit www.theiia.org/cae.

THE STANDARD OF QUALITY

The IIA has the resources and tools to help your organization establish and maintain a quality assurance and improvement program, including conformance with the Standards. To learn more about the online resources or to request a no-obligation proposal for an IIA-conducted external quality assessment, visit www.theiia.org/quality.

RESEARCH AND EDUCATION: THE IIA RESEARCH FOUNDATION

The IIA Research Foundation (IIARF) is a global leader in developing, sponsoring, conducting, and issuing groundbreaking research and educational products that foster the recognition and effectiveness of internal auditing. Resources from The IIARF guide, shape, and advance the practice of the profession to ensure that you can adapt and continue to add value to your organizations.

The IIARF is a not-for-profit corporation operating independently of The IIA, exclusively for research and educational purposes. The IIARF is funded by voluntary tax-deductible contributions from IIA members, Chapters and Institutes, and supportive organizations. To learn more and donate, visit www.theiia.org/research.

THE IIARF BOOKSTORE

The IIARF Bookstore is your one-stop shop for internal audit resources, books, and educational products. Offering the most comprehensive collection of practitioner-reviewed content from hundreds of titles and providing the latest insight and guidance to the profession with exclusive members-only pricing and special offers, the IIARF Bookstore is your most trusted source for internal auditing. Visit www.theiia.org/bookstore for details.

THE IIARF’S COMMON BODY OF KNOWLEDGE REPORTS

In 2010, The IIARF’s Common Body of Knowledge (CBOK) Study conducted its second global survey in 22 languages. Over 13,500 completed surveys were received from more than 107 countries. Five reports have been released culminationg in the most comprehensive study providing perspectives on global internal audit practices, trends, and insights as a practical resource for internal audit strategic planning and decision-making.

In addition, A Call to Action: Stakeholders’ Expectations and Perceptions Study - This report focuses on the value of internal auditing from the perspective of U.S. stakeholders such as CEOs and audit committee members. The reports are available as free online downloads to members. To learn more, please visit www.theiia.org/CBOK.
