

INSTITUTE OF INTERNAL AUDITORS GLOBAL ASSEMBLY AND INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE 2025

11 – 16 July 2025

Toronto, Canada

Gontle Khupe

President, IIA Botswana

The Institute of Internal Auditors
Botswana

Introduction

The Global Institute of Internal Auditors, in collaboration with the Institute of Internal Auditors Canada hosted the IIA International Conference at the Toronto Metro Convention Centre, under the theme “Embracing Change. Elevating Standards”.

The International Conference brings together the largest and most diverse collection of internal audit practitioners, providers and industry experts on a global scale. Together, delegates delved into best practices, cutting - edge technologies and emerging trends within the profession, equipping attendees to adeptly navigate evolving business and risk landscapes.

Global Assembly

The Global Assembly brings together affiliate leaders from IIA National Institutes to collectively shape the future of the internal audit profession. This annual in-person forum serves as a platform for official representatives worldwide to share insights, assess progress, and contribute to global strategies and initiatives that influence the profession at local, regional, and international levels.

The Global Assembly is instrumental in shaping IIA Global priorities. It provides a platform for dialogue, collaboration, and knowledge exchange across borders, ensuring that global strategies are aligned with the needs and realities of Institutes worldwide.

The theme “Where it All Comes Together” captures the spirit of this year’s event and the strength of the IIA’s shared commitment to continuous learning, connection and collective growth.

Figure 1: Mr Tafireyi Nyamazana- AFIIA Vice Chair Southern Africa, Ms. Lillian Wangechi Mwangi- AFIIA Three Large Institutes & President IIA Kenya, Ms. Anne Titus, Secretary General - IIA Kenya, Ms. Gontle Khupe- President IIA Botswana, Ms. Jenna Lucy Director Institute Engagement & Operations IIA Global, Mr Moses Kasakya - President IIA Uganda

Each Institute representative serves as a vital link between IIA Global and their national networks. They are encouraged to actively contribute during the event and to carry the dialogue forward with their own Institute boards and members. The annual three-day gathering features plenary sessions, breakout discussions, onboarding for new Institute leaders, and a range of learning and networking opportunities.

The insights and contributions from participants play a critical role in shaping the Global IIA strategic plan 2026 and strengthens collaboration across the global IIA community

The event kickstarted with the Global Assembly held from the 11th - 13th July 2025 at the Fairmont Royal York Hotel, Toronto Canada. The IIA welcomed affiliate leaders from 120 countries across the globe, where collaboration, innovation and global unity took centre stage.

The Global Assembly is a platform for National Institute Leaders to come together and contribute with shaping the strategic direction of the internal audit profession and strengthen our collective impact around the world. This year's Global Assembly placed special emphasis on creating more opportunities for networking and cross - institute collaboration - a key area of the IIA Botswana strategy.

With structured workshops and meetings, there were countless opportunities to network, exchange ideas and co - create solutions with peers from every corner of the globe. IIA created a Global Assembly app, where participants were encouraged to personalise their journey by building a unique agenda that reflects their institute's priorities, interests and goals.

Day 1: On - Boarding for New Leaders, Foundations of Leadership “Setting the Stage for Success”

The Global Assembly kick - started with an on-Boarding Program for new Affiliate Leaders, which was attended by Ms. Gontle Khupe, IIA Botswana President. The IIA has created an Affiliate Leader Onboarding Program that will help you navigate your first steps as a leader of the Institute. This program is delivered in two steps - online, followed by in person.

The online component includes a series of short videos with topics that cover the history of IIA, the global footprint, details about Affiliates, agreement types, partnership opportunities, operational procedures and resources that will help Board members in their new roles. This is a pre - requisite and is followed by the in - person component which is completed annually during the Global Assembly.

Figure 2: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Day 1 Onboarding Session

Figure 3: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA, Mr. Richard Chambers - Former CEO IIA Global, Ms. Besky Ngunjiri - Board Member IIA South Africa

On-boarding

The On - Boarding Session was conducted by Ms Victor Garcia, Director of Institute Relations Development. This session aimed to help participants better understand how the IIA works globally and how to navigate available tools and resources which are available to members. The topics covered included:

- The IIA's global structure and key business units
- The Master's Relationship Agreement (MRA)
- How to receive and share important updates
- Managing membership
- Using the Institute Leader Resources webpage

The session was practical, informative and well - received by new leaders. The consensus from Leaders was that it helped them feel more confident in their roles and better prepared to support their Institutes growth.

Figure 4: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr. Habib Bachir - Former AFIIA Vice Chair North Africa, Mr Eric Obodia - CEO IIA Ghana, Ms. Besky Ngunjiri - Board Member IIA South Africa

"As a first-time attendee at the Global Assembly, I was truly inspired by the opportunity to connect with internal audit leaders from around the world. I thought I knew the Institute, but I was wrong — the onboarding session provided a clear and insightful introduction. It taught me so much and gave me a deeper understanding of IIA Global work.

The opportunity to network with internal audit leaders from around the world as well as to see how collaboration and shared insights shape the future of our profession while informing strategies that make an impact locally, was a humbling experience. I look forward to bringing these learnings back to my Institute and contributing to our collective growth. Above all, I am grateful for the meaningful relationships I was able to build", - Ms. Gontle Khupe.

Welcome Reception

The first day concluded with a vibrant welcome celebration at the Fairmont Royal York, where attendees were invited to honour our global diversity by wearing traditional attire, making it a truly memorable and colourful evening.

“I always look forward to showcasing our traditional attire, which represents the beauty of our country”, says Ms. Gontle Khupe.

Figure 5: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana

Figure 6: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Dr Zelia Njeza - A FIIA Secretary General & President IIA Tanzania

The second day, themed, “Innovating and Elevating Impact “Shaping the Future Together,”

The second day was centred around strategic dialogue from emerging technologies like Artificial Intelligence to transformational leadership and the evolution of standards. We explored how to amplify the value of internal audit worldwide. The third day focused on unity, ethical leadership, advocacy and sustainability. The session left the attendees inspired to return to their institutes empowered and ready to lead with purpose, with the theme, “Strengthening Our Community

Year In Review

As the 2024-25 Chair term came to an end, Terry Grafenstine, IIA Global Chair 24'25 returned to the Global Assembly stage to share reflections on a year shaped by curiosity, connection, and courageous leadership. Her session offered insights from both personal and professional perspectives, centred on her chair theme, “Ask Questions”. Terry emphasized that the simple yet impactful act of asking questions remains a key driver of innovation, fosters meaningful dialogue, and reinforces the strength of the profession.

The keys takeaways were:

- Embracing a questioning mindset is a catalyst for growth
- Listening and learning from National Institutes leaders around the world informed key priorities throughout the year
- Encouraging inquiry helps internal auditors challenge assumptions, uncover root causes and lead with confidence

Next Steps:

- Institute leaders are encouraged to embed a culture of inquiry within their own teams and board relationships
- As a lasting legacy of the 2024'25 Chair term, National Institutes are invited to reflect on how curiosity can shape Strategy, Governance and Impact

Global IIA's Strategic Plan

Anthony Pugliese, President and CEO of IIA Global, delivered a presentation, focused on the strategic of the IIA. In his address Mr. Pugliese reviewed The IIA's progress over the past year and set out priorities for the future.

He outlined significant achievements, introduced the IIA Global Strategic Plan, and highlighted the vital contribution of National Institutes in bringing this vision to life.

The keys take aways were:

- 2025 has been a successful year for the IIA, reaching 265 000 members and 200 000 CIA's globally
- The IIA Global Strategic Plan continues to drive the profession forward and provides targeted support to National Institutes

Figure 7: Ms. Terry Grafenstine, IIA Global Chair 24'25

Figure 8: Mr. Anthony Pugliese- President & CEO IIA Global

- 85% of National Institutes have a strategic plan. These strategic plans closely align with that of IIA Global, especially with regard to learning, membership and advocacy

Next Steps:

- Institute leaders are encouraged to explore additional resources related to the IIA Global Strategic Plan to deepen their understanding and support their own planning efforts.

Figure 9: Mr. Joseph Zumasigee - Former President & Board Member IIA Ghana, Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr Leonard Okoth - Former President IIA Kenya

Figure 10: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr Tafireyi Nyamazana - AFIIA Vice Chair Southern Africa, Ms. Lusanda Ncoliwe - President IIA South Africa, Mr. Blessing

"I particularly enjoyed the panel discussion on strategic planning at National Institutes, which featured Effie Kokka, CEO of IIA Greece, Fabio Pimpao, Board Member IIA Brazil and incoming member of IIA Global Board of Directors, Simon - Jude Mmayie, President of IIA Nigeria, moderated by Alfonso Olaiz, Senior Director of Global Strategy. The session aimed to examine how National Institutes approach strategic planning, address challenges, and ensure alignment with the IIA Global strategy.

This discussion was particularly timely, as IIA Botswana has been developing its own strategy over the course of this year. I am proud to share that our strategy has now been completed and presented to selected stakeholders. Our next step will be to share the IIA Botswana Strategy at high level, more broadly with our members and other key partners," says Ms. Khupe.

Disciplinary and Oversight Framework

During the 2025 Global Assembly, The IIA unveiled its Disciplinary and Oversight Framework initiative—an important step toward reinforcing integrity, accountability, and consistency across the global internal audit profession.

The plenary session outlined the initiative's objectives and scope, while focused breakout discussions allowed for deeper engagement with National Institute leaders, regional representatives, and other stakeholders.

This initiative demonstrates The IIA's commitment to strengthening governance, harmonizing disciplinary practices across the One IIA network, and safeguarding the profession's credibility with members, regulators, and the wider public.

There were multiple presentations, discussions and breakaway sessions held:

- Competency Framework
- Many Journeys, One Profession, One IIA
- Standards, Guidance and Professional Practice
- Future Readiness and Emerging Risks
- Artificial Intelligence for More Intelligent Business
- Sustainable Unity
- Institute Collaboration, Recognition and Peer Learning
- Institute Operations
- International Chapter Program
- Institute Recognition Program
- Next Steps and Resources

Figure 12: Some of the African delegates at Global Assembly after a brief Regional Meeting

This year's Global Assembly provided a platform for strategic conversations on the IIA's direction and priorities. Leaders from across the globe came together to reflect on the current state of the profession, share insights on emerging challenges and align on initiatives that will shape the next chapter of internal auditing.

Figure 11: Roberto Rosas - Director Global Advocacy IIA Global, presenting on the Disciplinary and Oversight Framework

Gala Dinner

The second day concluded with a gala dinner held at the historic Design Exchange Toronto, providing a memorable evening for all attendees. The event offered a perfect blend of elegance and camaraderie, creating a relaxed environment for networking and celebrating the spirit of global collaboration within the internal audit profession. This marked the final evening that held all Global Assembly Leaders would be together, before the start of the Global Conference.

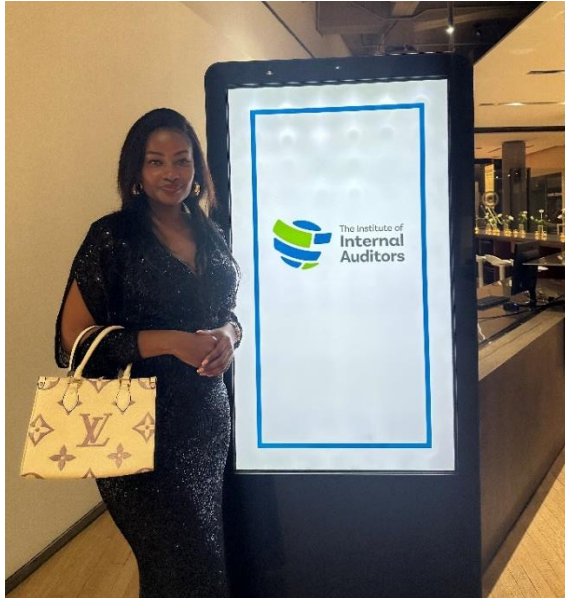

Figure 13: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana

Figure 14: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr. Anthony Pugliese - CEO and President IIA Global

“Global Assembly provides leaders with the opportunity to be at the forefront of decisions that shape not only the IIA, but also our respective Institutes,” Ms. Gontle Khupe shared. “I felt truly privileged to sit alongside the Global Team and fellow affiliate leaders, gaining the chance to both learn and contribute to our shared vision. Most importantly, I was proud that Botswana had a voice at the table, and that other Institutes were able to draw lessons from some of our initiatives. Global Assembly is far more than a gathering of Institute leaders—it is a platform to connect, network, and build lasting relationships that will continue to strengthen our Institutes.”

“It is important that we continue to have a seat at the table in these Global Discussions. Our presence ensures that the voice of Botswana’s internal auditors is heard, our unique perspectives are represented, and our local realities help shape the profession’s future direction. By actively participating, we strengthen not only our national institute, but also our contribution to the growth and influence of internal auditing across Africa and the world.” - Ms. Gontle Khupe

Figure 15: Global Assembly Delegates

Registration Mixer

On the final evening of the Global Assembly, we proceeded to the Metro Toronto Convention Centre for pre-registration, which was complemented by a lively registration mixer, where delegates picked up their badges and connected over good food and drinks.

With participants from around the world beginning to arrive, the event created an excellent opportunity to network, reconnect, and build new relationships ahead of the Global Conference. Attendees were encouraged to stop by the IIA booth to meet newcomers, connect with IIA staff and get tips on making the most of the international Conference.

Institute of Internal Auditors International Conference 2025

Figure 16: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr. Tumelo Batsu - Manager Internal Audit - Gambling Authority at the registration mixer

The Institute of Internal Auditors Botswana proudly participated at the Institutes of Internal Auditors International Conference 2025, which took place from the 14th - 16th July 2025 at the Toronto Metro Convention Centre, Toronto Canada, under the theme, “Embracing Change. Elevating Standard”.

This year's conference brought together more than 2000 audit industry practitioners and providers from more than 120 countries.

Figure 17: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Ms. Unobona Linos - Senior Internal Auditor Information Systems Bank of Botswana, Mr. Tumelo Batsu - Manager Internal Audit Gambling Authority, Ms. Margretmary Mushango - Deputy Director Internal Audit Bank of Botswana

There were over 55 sessions, focusing on 7 trending topics, including a CAE stream, attracting more than 50 speakers from around the globe.

IIAB was proud to be represented by Ms. Gontle Khupe - President, along with members; Ms. Margretmary Mushango, Deputy Director Internal Audit, Bank of Botswana and Former President IIAB, Unobona Linos, Senior Internal Auditor - Information Systems, Bank of Botswana & President ISACA and Tumelo Batsu, Manager Internal Audit, Gambling Authority.

The IIA International Conference once again proved to be the premier global gathering for internal audit professionals, offering a comprehensive and forward-looking program that addressed the most pressing issues facing the profession today. Participants experienced one of the most extensive and relevant training programs available, designed around timely global issues impacting internal audit. Sessions provided practical insights and actionable strategies to help professionals strengthen their impact within organisations.

The conference featured a dedicated app that enhanced the attendee experience. It included a complete list of participants, allowing us to message and connect with fellow attendees directly. The app also provided information on all sponsors and detailed session schedules, enabling participants to plan and select the sessions most relevant to their interests.

The conference brought together a diverse assembly of internal audit practitioners, including heads of internal audit from both public and private sector organisations. This diverse mix created a unique platform for participants to expand their global networks, share experiences, and exchange best practice.

Renowned speakers, thought leaders, and practitioners delivered engaging presentations and discussions, sparking dialogue around innovative ideas and concepts that will shape the future of the profession.

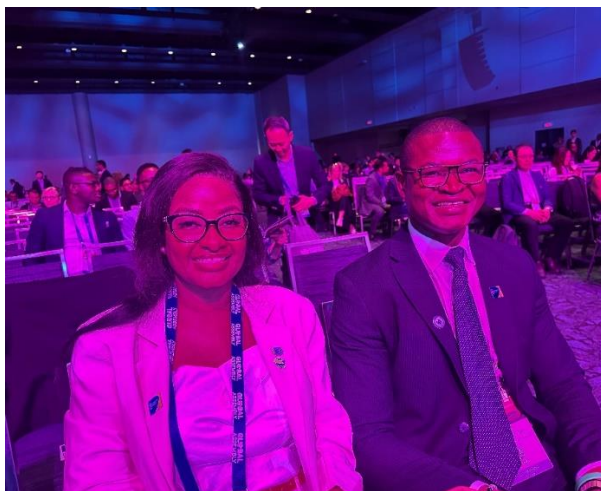

Figure 18: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr. Joseph Zumasigee - Former President IIA Ghana

Conference sessions focused on critical areas such as artificial intelligence, cybersecurity, fraud prevention, sustainability, and risk management, allowing delegates to pick the sessions that best aligned with their needs and interest.

Attendees also explored emerging technology trends, organizational culture, ethics and governance, financial services, and the new Global Internal Audit Standards, equipping them with knowledge to navigate a rapidly changing landscape.

Beyond the sessions, the conference offered opportunities to engage with leading-edge product, service, and technology providers. These global innovators showcased solutions designed to help internal auditors succeed in an environment of evolving risks and expectations.

Figure 19: Ms. Margretmary Mushango - Deputy Director Internal Audit Bank of Botswana, Mr. Richard Chambers - Former CEO IIA Global

Figure 20: Ms. Unobona Linos - Senior Internal Auditor Information Systems Bank of Botswana, Mr. Richard Chambers - Former CEO IIA Global

"I enjoyed the session titled, 'The Next Renaissance'", which focused on understanding how technology will reshape industries, organisations and our lives for the better. Emphasis was made on enhancing the understanding of the current AI landscape and its future trajectory, postponing insight on how AI will shape humanity as both organisational and individual levels and developing actionable strategies to future - proof business amid rapid AI advancement." Says Ms. Khupe, "I particularly enjoyed learning about practical applications and emerging trends that can be applied within our own Institute."

Figure 21: Roberto Rosas - Director Global Advocacy IIA Global, Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr. Christopher Schneck - CEO IIA Austria, Mr. Mat Young - Executive Vice President of Global Advocacy, Policy & Stakeholder Relations IIA Global, Dr. Joyce Omina - CEO IIA Kenya

Some of the sessions attended by Ms. Khupe:

- Unlocking Potential and Elevating Excellence: A New Competency Framework to Promote Achievement
- Managing a Business Without Corporate Governance: What Could Go Wrong
- Next Gen Auditor: Surviving the AI Impact
- Metamorphosis: Auditing the Transformation of the Impossible Reality - This session examined how to balance automation with human value and why every auditor must embrace a leadership mindset to stay ahead
- The Ripple Effect: Safeguarding Reputation in an Era of Social Media, Artificial Intelligence and Contagion Risk
- The Future Ain't What It Used to Be: Navigating Stakeholder Relationships with Authenticity

Figure 22: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr. Javier Faleato - Executive Vice President of Global Institute Relations & Professional Pathways IIA Global

Figure 23: Ms. Arlene Lynn Volmink - CEO IIA South Africa Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr. Thokozani Sihlangu - Deputy Chair IIA South Africa

There were multiple Innovation Sessions throughout the conference, designed to showcase new ideas, creative solutions and emerging trends relevant to internal audit. This included (from Ms. Khupe's attendance):

- Beyond the AI Hype: Our ISO 42001 Certification Story
- Bots, Boost and Beyond Internal Audit with Generative AI - This session explored how assurance should be reimagining audit practices through deliberate integration of generative AI, enhancing efficiency, sharpening insights and expanding the value of internal audit across the organisation
- From Detection to Strategy - How AI Enhances Internal Audit's Impact

Figure 24: Mr. Joseph Zumasigee - Former President IIA Ghana, Ms. Unobona Linos - Senior Internal Auditor Information Systems Bank of Botswana, Ms. Atarah J Smith - Conference Manager IIA Global, Ms. Margretmary Mushango - Deputy Director Internal Audit Bank of Botswana

Figure 25: Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana

Celebrating Excellence: Honouring the 2025 IIA Excellence Awards Winners

We joined the IIA President and CEO Anthony Pugliese as he presented the Inaugural IIA Excellence Awards. This special session celebrated the individuals and teams whose exceptional leadership, groundbreaking ideas and impactful contributions are shaping the future of the internal audit profession on a global scale. During the conference, IIA Kenya was recognized with an award, and it was inspiring to see Africa come together to celebrate and support them.

"This moment served as a motivation for all of us, and I hope that one day IIA Botswana will have the opportunity to stand on that stage as well. It reinforced the importance of unity and collaboration, reminding us that by supporting each other across the continent, we can collectively strengthen the internal audit profession in Africa. #OneAfrica #OnellA #OneVoice", says Ms. Khupe

Game Centre

The IIA introduced an interactive game through their conference app, where participants completed a variety of challenges to earn points, adding a fun and engaging element to the event. We are proud to share that Tumelo Batshu, Internal Audit Manager Gambling Authority earned 10th place in the game, putting IIA Botswana on the map, but most of all showcasing his enthusiasm and engagement throughout the challenges.

Figure 26: Mr. Tumelo Batshu - Manager Internal Audit, Gambling Authority taking a selfie with one of the delegates

Figure 27: Mr. Tumelo Batshu - Manager Internal Audit, Gambling Authority enjoying views of Toronto during lunch

Figure 28: Ms. Unobona Linos - Senior Internal Auditor Information Systems Bank of Botswana, outside the Toronto Metro Convention

Figure 29: Ms. Margaretmary Mushango - Deputy Director Internal Audit Bank of Botswana

Figure 30: Ms. Unobona Linos - Senior Internal Auditor Information Systems Bank of Botswana

Social Event at Rebel Night Club

On the first night of the conference, delegates hopped on a bus and headed to Rebel Night Club for an event organized by the IIA, themed “Under the Sea” which featured a spectacular indoor and outdoor pool area. The night was full of energy, with upbeat music, vibrant lighting, and a lively dance floor where everyone could let loose after a long day of sessions. Guests enjoyed great food and drinks; mingled with colleagues from around the world, and had the chance to connect in a fun, relaxed setting. It was a fantastic reminder that internal auditors can celebrate, network, and enjoy themselves outside the conference sessions.

Figure 31: Ms. Unobona Linos - Senior Internal Auditor Information Systems Bank of Botswana

Figure 32: Ms. Unobona Linos - Senior Internal Auditor Information Systems Bank of Botswana, Mr. Tichaona Zororo - Director of Digital & Cybersecurity Advisory, EGIT, Ms. Margretmary Mushango - Deputy Director Internal Audit Bank of Botswana

Figure 33: Dr Xola Lingani - Executive Internal Audit (CAE), SITA Ms. Gontle Khupe - President IIA Botswana, Mr. Thokozani Sihlangu - Deputy Chair IIA South Africa

Figure 34: AFIIA Group posing for a picture at Rebel Night Club

“We often get so caught up in work that we forget to have fun, so it was wonderful to see fellow internal auditors outside the conference setting letting loose” Ms. Khupe mentioned.

PwC Mixer

On the second night, I had the opportunity to attend the PwC mixer at the PwC Level Up Lounge, alongside several Affiliate Leaders. The event provided an excellent networking experience, allowing for meaningful conversations, exchange of ideas, and the chance to build connections with peers and industry leaders in a relaxed and engaging environment.

CN Tour

One of the evenings included a visit to the iconic CN Tower, standing at 553.3 metres. This experience was truly memorable, offering breathtaking panoramic views of Toronto from the Observation deck.

Figure 35: Ms. Margaretmary Mushango

Figure 36: Ms. Unobona Linos

Figure 37: Ms. Margaretmary Mushango

Niagara Falls

After the conference officially concluded, we took the opportunity to visit the Niagara Falls. This trip was a breathtaking experience. We soaked up the stunning views, took plenty of photos and enjoyed some much-needed downtime. It was the perfect way to cap off an amazing week of learning, networking and new experiences as well as to say goodbye to the lovely country that is Canada.

Figure 38: Ms. Gontle Khupe on the Maid of the Mist Boat at Niagara Falls

Figure 39: Ms. Unobona Linos posing for a picture at Niagara Parks

Figure 40: Ms. Unobona Linos & Ms. Margaretmary Mushango taking a selfie on the Mist Boat at Niagara Falls

Conclusion

The IIA International Conference reinforced its role as a cornerstone event for advancing the internal audit profession. Through world-class training, global networking, thought leadership, and exposure to innovation, the conference empowered participants to return to their organizations better equipped to address challenges, embrace opportunities, and drive meaningful impact.

“Attending the Global assembly and International Conference was an inspiring and eye-opening experience. From the very beginning, I was struck by the scale of the event and the diversity of participants, bringing together internal audit professionals and leaders from around the world.

I am also pleased to share that, following this engagement, I successfully secured a Silver Sponsorship valued at BWP 50,000 from CaseWare for the upcoming IIA Botswana Annual Conference 2025— a testament to the power of connection, collaboration, and shared commitment to advancing the internal audit profession.”. - Ms Gontle Khupe

“The conference offered an incredible opportunity to learn from experts on timely and relevant topics such as AI, cybersecurity, fraud prevention, sustainability, and emerging trends in internal audit. Sessions like the one on Artificial Intelligence were particularly engaging, providing practical insights that I can apply within our Institute. I also appreciated the innovation sessions, which highlighted cutting-edge ideas and creative solutions shaping the future of the profession. Beyond the sessions, the conference was an amazing networking opportunity.

From formal mixers like the PwC event to informal gatherings at Rebel Night Club, I enjoyed meeting colleagues, sharing ideas, and building meaningful connections. Experiencing these moments outside the traditional conference setting reminded me that internal auditors can celebrate, have fun, and strengthen relationships at the same time. It was inspiring to see IIA Kenya receive recognition, and moments like this highlighted the importance of supporting each other as African Institutes.

This has motivated me to think about the future of IIA Botswana and the collective potential we must make an impact.” Ms. Khupe reflected.

“Overall, as a first-time attendee, I left the conference energized, motivated, and more connected to the global internal audit community. It was not just a learning experience—it was an opportunity to see our profession from a broader, global perspective and to bring back ideas, inspiration, and best practices to share at home. Words cannot express how much I love IIA Botswana and how deeply I want to see our Institute grow. I am incredibly proud that we were well represented at the conference”. Ms. Khupe added.

The Institute of Internal Auditors Botswana remains dedicated to advancing excellence in Internal Auditing and Governance, both within Botswana and across the Global network. By fostering professional development, promoting best practices, and encouraging collaboration among internal audit professionals, the Institute continues to strengthen the profession and contribute to good Governance.

Our active participation in global forums, such as the IIA International Conference, reflects our commitment to learning, sharing knowledge, and positioning IIA Botswana as a leading voice in the regional and global internal audit community.

Rea Leboga Toronto!!!