Welcome

Welcome to the second edition of the IIA Chapter Curacao's newsletter. After sending out volume 1 of our newsletter, we have observed significant developments, such as the necessity to inform about the CFATF(MEVAL) evaluation earlier due to its impactful implications. Additionally, we have determined that it would be more appropriate to introduce the new IIA standards in the spring. This timing adjustment is crucial as it ensures we provide you with the most current knowledge and developments in our field of internal auditing.

New IIA standards

The new Standards impact businesses of all sizes, industries, and geographic regions. They were designed to help internal auditors – and their organizations – respond better to today's complex and rapidly changing business environment. Among the notable changes introduced by the IPPF Evolution project are:

- Strengthening governance frameworks to improve organizations' responsiveness to rapidly changing business environments.

- Specific guidance to assist internal auditors in the public sector and for small internal audit functions.
- A more flexible framework that can adapt to the unique challenges faced by auditors in different parts of the world.
- Specific guidance and standards on critical areas like cybersecurity.

The Standards provide internal audit principles, requirements, and considerations for implementation in a streamlined format. They help elevate the quality of internal auditing and enhance the internal audit function's role as an essential business partner to boards and senior management.
