Description: With almost 90% of the United States' total population using social media, is your organization's social media strategy prepared for the risk that follows? We will dive into three perspectives you should consider when assessing risk in social media and discuss what controls should be in place. This event will discuss popular social media platforms and how Internal Audit should help their organization navigate this digital landscape.

Speaker Bio: Alex began his professional career working in web design and social media management for a local news organization. He continued to grow his social media/public affairs experience by working with multiple small businesses on managing their social media presence and how to handle rising risks. Branching into the world of health insurance, Alex has been with Blue Cross Blue Shield of Tennessee for 10 years including 5 years in Internal Audit.
